DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 9, 12, 17-19, 21, 22 and 26-28 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Grosshuesch (4,513,907). See figs. 4 and 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Regarding claims 3, 7, 10, Grosshuesch discloses all of the limitations of the claims except for the sheet of material being made from a ferrous or non-ferrous metal, fiberglass, vinyl, or plastic material, the louvers being arranged in a chevron pattern on one or more of the panels, and each of the two or more outer panels being bent at an angle of about 28 degrees with respect to the inner panel. However, since the applicant has failed to establish any criticality or synergistic results which are derived from the recited configurations, these limitations are considered a matter of obvious design choice. Thus, the applicant's design configurations would have been an obvious improvement to one of ordinary skill in the art with regard to the apparatus disclosed in Grosshuesch.

Art Unit: 3749

Claims 6 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Grosshuesch. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide a plurality of louvers in the opening, and additional panels so that the vent may cover multiple corrugations since it has been held that mere duplication of parts has no patentable significance unless a new and unexpected result is produced. In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960) .

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Grosshuesch in view of official notice, In re Ahlert, 424 F.2d 1088, 165 USPQ 418, 420 (CCPA 1970). Grosshuesch discloses all of the limitations of the claims except for attaching the vent by riveting, welding, taping, sheet metal screws, or gluing. One skilled in the art would find it obvious to modify the heating system of Grosshuesch to include the attachment means.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11, 13, 23-25 and 29 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1/21/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's representative argues that the office action does not fully point out how the prior art addresses each and every limitation of the claims. The office considered the claims so broad that a recitation of the figures would suffice in illustrating the broad limitations of the claims. To be more specific, applicant's representative is directed to the abstract of Grosshuesch where it recites a corrugated board, fig. 4 shows the bending of that board creating three panels, fig. 4 further show openings as illustrated by element 28 and the entire bent board is considered a vent.

Art Unit: 3749

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The provided references are representative of the state of the art that is applicable to the applicant's invention. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Derek S. Boles at (571) 272-4872.
